

Figure 1 is a map of surface pressure (mb) for Proteus at 15 April 2020 0000 UTC. The map shows a low-pressure system (1009.8 mb) centered over the Gulf of Mexico, with a cold front extending from the north and a warm front extending from the south. The pressure values range from 1009.8 to 1011.0 mb. The map includes latitude and longitude coordinates and a color scale for pressure.

